

2022 Summer Archaeology Field Schools at Colonial Williamsburg

When: May 31-July 1 (Session 1) or July 5-August 5 (Session 2)

Where: Colonial Williamsburg, credits through W&M

Why: Join Colonial Williamsburg's archaeological field school, where you'll learn archaeological field methods while excavating sites and artifacts which tell new stories about the diverse people who called Williamsburg home in the 1700s and 1800s. Students will practice excavation techniques, site recording methods, artifact identification, and public interpretation. Learn practical skills you'll need for a career in archaeology! Students will earn 6 credits of ANTH 225, work runs from 8:30am-4:00pm weekly.

CRN: 32358 (Session 1) 32359 (Session 2)

Email Joni Carlson (jdcarlson@wm.edu) for more information